

THE OUTLAW OCEAN PROJECT

Whistleblower Protection Policy

The Outlaw Ocean Project requires directors, officers and employees to observe high standards of business and personal ethics in the conduct of their duties and responsibilities. As employees and representatives of the Outlaw Ocean Project, we must practice honesty and integrity in fulfilling our responsibilities and comply with all applicable laws and regulations.

Reporting Responsibility

This Whistleblower Policy is intended to encourage and enable employees and others to raise serious concerns internally so that the Outlaw Ocean Project can address and correct inappropriate conduct and actions. It is the responsibility of all board members, officers, employees and volunteers to report concerns about violations of the Outlaw Ocean Project's code of ethics or suspected violations of law or regulations that govern the Outlaw Ocean Project's operations.

No Retaliation

It is contrary to the values of the Outlaw Ocean Project for anyone to retaliate against any board member, officer, employee or volunteer who in good faith reports an ethics violation, or a suspected violation of law, such as a complaint of discrimination, or suspected fraud, or suspected violation of any regulation governing the operations of the Outlaw Ocean Project. An employee who retaliates against someone who has reported a violation in good faith is subject to discipline up to and including termination of employment.

Reporting Procedure

The Outlaw Ocean Project has an open door policy and suggests that employees share their questions, concerns, suggestions or complaints with their supervisor. If you are not comfortable speaking with your supervisor or you are not satisfied with your supervisor's response, you are encouraged to speak with the Executive Editor, Ian Urbina. Supervisors and managers are required to report complaints or concerns about suspected ethical and legal violations in writing to the Outlaw Ocean Project's designated person, who has the responsibility to investigate all reported complaints. Employees with concerns or complaints may also submit their concerns in writing directly to their supervisor, or the Outlaw Ocean Project's Executive Editor Ian Urbina, or the Outlaw Ocean Project's designated person.

Designated person for handling complaints

The Outlaw Ocean Project's designated person is responsible for ensuring that all complaints about unethical or illegal conduct are investigated and resolved. This designated person will advise the Executive Editor and/or the Board of Directors of all complaints and their resolution and will report at least annually to the Executive Editor and/or the Board on compliance activity relating to accounting or alleged financial improprieties.

Acting in Good Faith

Anyone filing a written complaint concerning a violation or suspected violation must be acting in good faith and have reasonable grounds for believing the information disclosed indicates a violation. Any allegations that prove not to be substantiated and which prove to have been made maliciously or knowingly to be false will be viewed as a serious disciplinary offense.

Confidentiality

Violations or suspected violations may be submitted on a confidential basis by the complainant. Reports of violations or suspected violations will be kept confidential to the extent possible, consistent with the need to conduct an adequate investigation.
